National Public Service Week

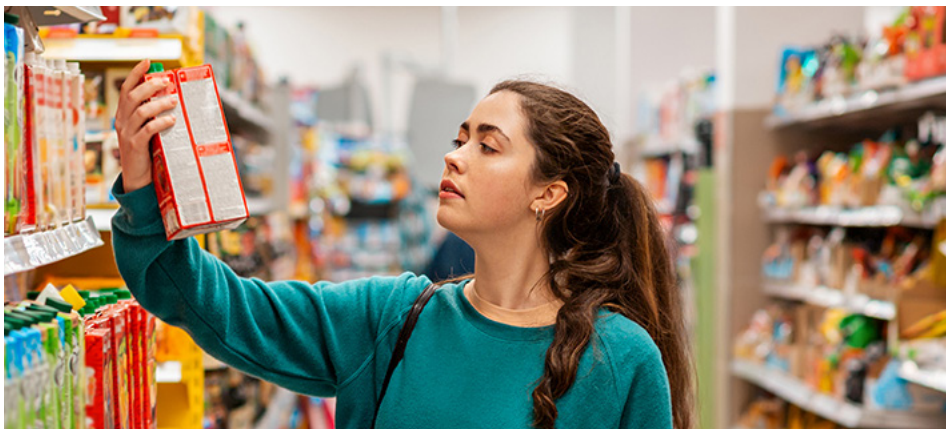

Every June, the Government of Canada marks National Public Service week. On the occasion of this year's National Public Service Week, the Union of Safety and Justice Employees (alongside other Components of the Public Service Alliance of Canada) are celebrating the invaluable work that federal public service employees undertake every day for the safety and security of Canadians.

Phoenix: Have you received an overpayment letter? Here's what to know before you respond

If you've received a letter from your department asking you to repay a Phoenix overpayment—especially one from years ago—you're not alone. Thousands of PSAC members have been asked to pay back alleged overpayments, some dating back nearly a decade. In many cases, these letters are riddled with errors or demand repayment for debts that are too old to collect.

Directory of Canadian Union-Made Products and Services

Buying union-made Canadian products, and patronizing unionized hotels, automotive dealers, and other unionized services, supports good jobs in Canada.

Be sure to check product packaging for country of origin and, of course, the union label.

Union Safety Net S2 : EP6 – More than 1,000 job losses at CRA

On May 1, International Workers Day, the Canada Revenue Agency announced that more than 1,000 term employees in contact centres across the country will not be renewed when their contracts expire on May 16. It begs the question – how will this impact services to Canadians? We sat down with Marc Brière, National President of the Union of Taxation Employees to find out what's going on with our taxes.
